Yoemen To Meet Rockdale Friday

3,078 Last Week

Bale Count 5,471

The Cameron Yoemen, recouping from 34-0 defeat by West, will meet the Rockdale Tigers at 8 p.m. Friday at Yoe Field.

Rockdale defeated Giddings last week 26-16 in their opener.

Coach Jim Speer said that he will start Chris Gay at right half and either Jimmy Woodum or Fikes at quarter. These were the only changes contemplated in the lineup.

The YHS line will be: Barkemeyer at center, Shumate and Barrett at guards, Koranek and Humpik at tackles, Brashear and Fontaine at ends. Lierman and Bayner will start at left half and full-back positions respectively.

Rockdale's lineup will probably be: Knight at center, Brewton and Gebhart at guards, White and Springer at tackles, Goodman and D. Lawrence at ends, Ellis at quarterback, Yezak and R. Lawrence at halfbacks and Perry at fullback.

Cotton bale count zoomed more than 3,000 bales over the last report as a heavy work week was completed Monday.

But rains early this week dampened Milam fields and kept workers and mechanical strippers alike from continuing the rush for the county's best cotton crop in about five years.

P. W. Davis, manager at Cameron Compress, reported a total of 3,078 bales accounted for since last week when 2,383 was the tally. Total thus far is 5,471.

Most optimistic prospect of the current total baling is that it is already well over half of the entire 1958 production.

Experts looked back in grim recollection of the 8,000 bale total last year.

Agricultural spokesmen seemed to agree that cotton grades were suffering in the steady early week rains, but that no appreciable loss in total bale production was foreseen.

State Agriculture Comm. John White estimated the state total would be reduced by about 225,000 bales but it would still reach 4,525,000 bales, well above 1958 production.

Nationwide totals were expected to reach 27 percent beyond last year with 14,678,000 bales.

Cotton buyers estimated that quite a bit of one bale per acre cotton will keep the county's total above 15,000 bales and perhaps beyond 20,000.

Average Milam yield is about one-third bale per acre.

2 Trucks, Car Crash At City Intersection

A three-vehicle collision about 5:30 p.m. Monday sent four people to Cameron hospitals in the only city accident over the long Labor Day Weekend.

Injured were:

ERIE A. NORWOOD, 28, Rockdale, driver of one of the vehicles, who suffered a multiple break of an arm and bruises.

MRS. ERIE A. NORWOOD, his wife, passenger in her husband's car.

And ADOLFO RIVERA, 63, Rt. 1, Cameron, driver of a second vehicle, and his passenger, JACIN TO SALANO, Cameron, bruises.

Police Chief Chester Simons said that Rivera's 1954 Chevy pickup collided with Norwood's 1956 Chrysler at the intersection of US 77-E, First St., plowing Norwood's car into another pickup driven by Preston Tucker, 41, of 701 E. 15th St.

Driving alone, Tucker escaped injury.

Simons said that Rivera began a turn onto First Street from the highway when he collided with the Norwood's car, going east on US 77.

Impact of the first collision carried Norwood's car into the Tucker pickup which was stopped at the intersection before proceeding east into highway traffic, Simons continued.

The three vehicles collided at the intersection.

Norwood's two children, escaped serious injury though one child received a bump on the head.

Both Rivera and Salano went to the hospital for treatment of bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. Norwood were taken to a Cameron hospital where he was treated for a multiple fracture of the arm.

Heaviest damage was on the Norwood car which officials estimated at $700.

Damage to the Rivera pickup was about $400 and to the Tucker truck at $175, Simons said.

Police ticketed Rivera for failure to yield right-of-way.

NMUF Leader Writes:

Fund Combines 6 Agencies

By E. O. Schiller Jr.
President, North Milam County United Fund

The North Milam County United Fund is a voluntary, non-profit organization whose principal purpose is to combine six annual fund raising drives into one, and thus benefit the entire community by saving time, and effort, and to decrease the cost of fund raising.

The United Fund believes you, the giver, of being called on several times a year to donate money to the organizations which now participate in the Fund.

This year the agencies participating in the United Fund drives are: The American Red Cross, The Boy Scouts of America, The Girl Scouts of America, Salvation Army, Heart Fund, and North Milam County Charities.

Here are some facts explaining the activities of Red Cross in this area. Other Articles will explain the functions of the other participating agencies.

The quota this year for the Red Cross is $3,100 from the North Milam County United Fund. It is broken down in the following way: National Disaster Fund $1,350, Blood Program $900, Ten Bloodmobile visits to the county $100, Home Service Supervisor's Salary $150, Securing leaves, extension of leaves, loans to servicemen, veterans and widows, $450, First Aid Training, Staff and Training, First Aid Books, office Supplies $100.

The National Disaster Fund can be called on any time a disaster occurs, and provided certain conditions exist. Those calls for aid are investigated by a group of men who live in Milam County and serve as volunteer with the Red Cross. Any time aid of this type is needed to call to the Red Cross in Rockdale, Texas is all that is needed.

The Blood Program in which all of Milam County takes part is one of the biggest life-saving, money saving programs offered by the Red Cross.

Included on the agenda is discussion of transfer of interest earnings in two school funds to the local school maintenance fund. The two funds have earned $3,611 in the past three years and $530 in the past year.

Board members will also consider follow-up action since school tax office suits have been assured delinquent school property taxpayers. Letters to delinquent taxpayers went out April 1 on real property and May 20 on personal property.

Other agenda points include: Employment of Leonard Baldwin as janitor and Jim Edwards as bus driver to replace Ted Matula who has resigned.

Requests for extra bus service from Mrs. Willis Kuhn, and Charles Lucko for their children.

Hearing a letter from Judge Don G. Humble noting that county commissioner's court is not presently interested in a county-wide tax equalization program being considered by the Cameron district.

Letters from Texas Education Agency noting that sinking fund short term loans and asking for surpluses cannot be used to retire reduction in tax valuations.

Request from Pat Kelley, YHS vocational agriculture instructor, to conduct a two-week adult welding course and a five day tractor maintenance course next year.

Under this program a person in need of blood can obtain it from the Red Cross in any hospital in the 50 states or the world. All that is necessary to obtain this blood at no cost, except the hospital charge for administering the blood is to be a resident of Milam County.

From July 1, 1955 to June 30, 1959 Newton's Memorial Hospital used 80 pints of blood, St. Edward's Hospital used 166 pints of blood and Richard's Hospital in Rockdale used 95 pints of blood for a total of 341 pints of blood from the Red Cross Blood Center in Waco.

This does not include the hundreds of pints of blood used in Milam County residents in hospitals in Waco, Temple, Marlin, Houston, Galveston and other cities. Figuring at the lowest cost per pint of blood, $25.00 a pint, this means that the people of Milam County have received over $8,500 worth of blood at practically no cost to them from the Red Cross.

North Milam Pays $3,100

The Red Cross Blood Center in Waco, is only one of 47 in the whole United States. It is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, for persons needing blood. The cost of running this blood center for one year is $92,014.85, and the people of North Milam County are asked to contribute only $3,100 to the Red Cross, who is receiving a bargain?

Another service available to you through the Red Cross is First Aid Training.

Courses in First Aid are given to groups who are interested by qualified instructors, and at the finish of the course cards are given to each person stating that he has successfully passed the Red Cross First Aid course, and is qualified to administer first aid in cases of emergencies.

Also available through the Red Cross is a course in home nursing, given by a qualified Red Cross instructor who is also a registered nurse. For further information on the First Aid course and Home Nursing course contact Mr. Yeager, c/o the Red Cross, Rockdale, Texas.

This is just a brief summary of the services rendered to the people of Milam County without any charges by the American Red Cross, an agency of the United Fund. Future information will be released on the other five agencies.

Oil 100

With F. M. L.

Telephoneman Ray Oakes, in a talk before Cameron Rotarians Wednesday, told of some customers who were not too interested in getting dial installation on their phone.

Said Oakes in quoting one customer: "I don't want that blankity wheel on my phone."

100-100-100

The geologist son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Eixman, Cameron, has quite a bit more authority in his oil company than his experience would normally allow. His superiors will always believe him when he tells them an oil well is going to blow up.

Melroy Eixman tells it this way. After arriving at the Arabian oil field site where he was to work, he noticed dangerous characteristics of a well he was checking.

He was concerned by the potential of an explosion and studied the well more closely. Three letters on the topic brought no answer from Houston superiors.

Finally he called Houston, Texas, from Arabia and asked that work be stopped. Again he was poo-pooed by superior engineering counsel.

Then the well blew up. A flock of company men flew to Arabia to see why. And Melroy was waiting for their arrival, looking over the melted ruins of the drill ing equipment.

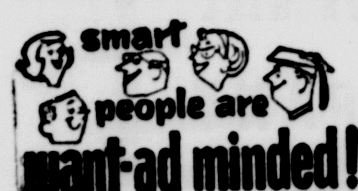

He is now awaiting an assignment in South America. They flew him back to the United States and Cameron. And he was promised his word would be law if he ever reported another well about to blow.

100-100-100

That's an interesting, though disastrous story. It makes one point extremely clear.

If a man, regardless of age, has good judgment and applies his training to a situation before him, he can probably tell what is going to happen.

You might say: "It's not only age, but mileage that counts."

City Purchases New Police Unit, Used Packer Kit

The City Council in special sessions over the weekend purchased a new Chevrolet police unit and a used packer unit for a second city garbage truck.

Councilmen also reminded the public that a final public hearing is set for 8:30 p.m. Thursday for the 1959-60 city budget of $254,211.

And councilmen voted to buy the city's streetsweeper on a payout plan as the 90-day tryout of the equipment ended.

Successful bidder on the 1959 Chevrolet was Culpepper Motor Co. at $1578 for a Bel Aire Chevrolet. Culpepper Motors was low bidder in field of six including: Woodum Auto Sales, Earle Pearson Chevrolet, Schiller Motors, Heley - Stedman Ford and King Motor Co. of Crockett.

The city bid for the second-hand garbage packer unit for installation on a new truck to be purchased during the next fiscal year. The additional equipment will double weekly garbage pickup in residential Cameron, officials noted.

The council also discussed the stray dog menace which has developed during the summer months in Cameron.

Officials called for a wide-spread campaign to get dogs vaccinated and to pick up all stray dogs off city streets.

Decisions were made in two special sessions of the council Saturday and Tuesday.

A second reading of the garbage service ordinance will put both vehicles in operation after the new fiscal year starts October 1. Also planned is additional trash pickup in residential areas once a week. The new service will cost patrons $1 per month compared to 50 cents a month now.

City Plans Drive On Stray Dogs

City officials have asked that all dog owners begin having their pets vaccinated by veterinarians prior to a campaign to pick up stray dogs in Cameron.

Police Chief Chester Simons told The Herald this week that his department will begin city wide efforts to pick up stray dogs.

He pointed out that city ordinances require all dogs to be vaccinated by rabies and wear a dog license available at City Hall. Cost of the license is $1.

"We want to eliminate the possibility of a straydog snapping at our school children who just started back to classes," Simons said.

He estimates that at least 300 unclaimed, stray dogs are roaming the streets of Cameron and that a concerted drive is necessary to cut down that number.

Untagged animals will be taken to the city dog pound for retention he continued. If in three days they are not claimed, the strays will be destroyed.

He cited recent bitings that occurred in Waco during the past two weeks.

He advised that dog owners go to any licensed veterinarian to have their pets vaccinated for rabies, then bring the vaccination papers to Cameron City Hall for purchase of the dog tag.

Last year Cameron's first dog ordinance was approved and police picked up several hundred strays. But Simons says that efforts must be renewed since a new crop of strays are wandering in the city.

"Any dog that is obviously not a stray, that looks well fed and kept will not be destroyed," Simons said, "and efforts would be made to bring the owner and pet together."

"A sure way of knowing your dog won't be picked up by mistake is keeping him on the home lot and being sure he is wearing a city license," Simons emphasized.

He said that he would set up a schedule with local veterinarians so that pet owners would be able to have their dogs vaccinated at convenient times in the various parts of the city.

Agent Notes:

Shedding Pecans Raises Questions

By J. D. Moore

Pecan Shedding is widespread and many inquiries have been received concerning this condition. This has been particularly true in the month of August. There are many conditions that will cause pecans to shed from the tree. A few of the more common causes are: Late generation pecan nut casebearer (feeding in the shuck after shell hardens), Hickory shuck worm injury to shuck) feeding injury of pecan weevil, inadequate supply of available moisture, lack of available nutrient elements, partial defoliation of the pecan tree by the black pecan aphid, heavy scab infection on leaves and shuck (as well as other leaf spot diseases), high winds.

Any condition that reduces the normal activity of the pecan leaf or shuck can cause the nuts on the tree to fall prematurely. The stress period for the pecan tree in the development of the nut is in the late summer and early fall. Unfavorable conditions at this time invariably results in trouble.

Even though certain varieties are more susceptible to heavy scab and foliage diseases in this area, it is noted that shedding is about equal in all varieties. The county agent is of the opinion that the shedding is due to physiological conditions. The more likely conditions include variable temperatures, deficient nutrients and deficient moisture.

We are reminded that the natural place for a thrifty pecan tree is in the fertile, deep, river bottom soils. Anytime we remove the trees from the favorable growing conditions and plant them in shallow soils deficient in humus, moisture, we are liable to run into organic matter, nutrients and moisture.

Many growers are concerned about their pecans being full of water in early August. It is normal for the nuts to contain a large amount of liquid during this period and this condition is not responsible for the heavy shedding of premature shedding of pecan nuts. Study the tree closely, observe the conditions of the leaves, check the shuck of pecans for insect or disease injury and check the soil for moisture supply. Many times these conditions can be corrected. The county Extension office has information that will help you with your pecan problems.

New Stamp Cites Soil Conservation Work In U. S.

"Cooperators of the Taylor Soil Conservation District and in the more than 2800 districts throughout the United States are among those to be honored by the issuance conservation stamp by the Post Office Department", A. W. Butts, member of the board of supervisors of the Taylor Soil Conservation District said today.

"The stamp was officially issued August 26, at Rapid City, South Dakota at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America," Butts said. The Stamp went on sale at post offices throughout the country, August 27.

Butts said that the four cent conservation stamp is in recognition of the farmers and ranchers who are demonstrating good soil stewardship. It is in salute to the soil conservation districts and the professional agricultural workers who have helped make the United States a world leader in soil conservation.

The stamp portrays the beauty as well as the bounty that modern conservation farming brings to rural living. The city skyline on the horizon signifies at the same time that dwellers in skyscrapers also have a stake in soil conservation.

In addition this stamp portrays a modern conservation farm with grasses in the rolling pasture, foreground, prevent soil erosion and conserve moisture. A farm pond, lower right, provides water for domestic and livestock use, for fire protection, for wildlife and for recreation such as fishing, swimming and boating.

Contour strip cropping and crop rotation systems, left and right, center, include grasses and cultivated crops in alternating bands. The grassed strips catch and hold soil that may move out of the cultivated strips during heavy washing rains and also cause more moisture to soak into the soil.

Shaded Cattle Gain Faster On Texas Feedlots

COLLEGE STATION — Cattle in shaded feedlots gained faster than animals fed in unshaded lots, and those exposed to cooling breezes did better than unshaded cattle, according to experiments conducted by the USDA and the California Agricultural Experiment Station in California's Imperial Valley.

U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, said the Hereford steers on the shaded lots gained an average of 2.28 pounds daily.

To test the value of good wind exposure on a feedlot, Thompson said the scientists raised another group of steers on a lot equipped with fans and they gained an average of 1.85 pounds daily.

In contrast, steers in wire corals with neither fans or shade gained only 1.63 pounds daily. Where the steers had shade plus fans, the result was gains averaging 2.15 pounds daily.

For each pound of gain, the unshaded cattle consumed 9.28 pounds of feed, Thompson added, while unshaded animals exposed to the breeze of fans consumed 8.72 pounds. For each pound of gain the shaded animals had the best average, 7.90 pounds, while the animals under shade and exposed to fans consumed 7.98 pounds of feed.

Texas feeders interested in shade for their feedlot cattle can make a good shade by using slatted snow fence (paling), said Thompson. They are best constructed 12 feet in height and 16-20 feet in width in a clothesline pattern.

The snow fence should run in the direction which will give the greatest amount of shade during the day. If you need a copy of plans for building shade for your cattle, Thompson added, Plan 458 is available from your local county agent.

The first signal book in the U. S. Navy was issued in 1797 by Captain Thomas Truxton. The volume contained approximately 180 signals.

Shooting Teaches Control

By Vern Sanford
Nearly every man who has owned a gun has done a lot of dry shooting. It is a good way to get the feel of a gun, and learn nerve control. You get used to the swing and then when the time comes to shoot, you are not placed in the position of trying too hard.
Henry P. Davis, who has just retired as public relations director of Remington Arms, has a lot to say about dry shooting for either rifle, shotgun or pistol.
"The fundamentals of shooting are very simple," Davis says. "The most important factor is proper coordination of mind, nerves, and muscles. Many persons have expressed themselves as being exceedingly dubious concerning their ability to learn to shoot well. They give as their reason for this existing doubt, the fact that they are extremely nervous, especially when shooting. My answer always is the same—simple and direct—it is the solution of their problem: Shooting teaches nerve control."

Davis then goes on to explain that first the shooter must firmly fix the sight picture in his mind. This sight picture simply is the alignment of the front and rear sights in relation to the target.
"The shooter should align his sights properly and then concentrate his vision on the target," Davis says. "Then he sees the sights without really looking at them, and the target is constantly in proper view. His eyes are focused on the target but his field of vision includes the sights. Thus the correct sight picture embraces the instruments of sighting properly aligned with the target."
Davis further points to the importance of trigger squeeze. This is particularly true in shooting at stationary targets. If the trigger is yanked or jerked, the barrel swings out of proper alignment.

Naturally, in shooting at swinging or moving targets the shooter doesn't have too much time for squeezing the trigger, but if he has sufficient practice, either from shooting at still targets or dry shooting, then his trigger movement becomes easier.
On the subject of dry shooting, our gunslinger clubs today are the cause of a great deal of practice along this line. Some of these would-be gunslingers stand for hours before the mirror just drawing and firing. They do it so many times the movement becomes absolutely natural.
The same practice with either shotgun or rifle, or both, can be effective for the hunter too. Time spent in dry shooting is not lost, even if you don't do it quiet right. This is worth a lot to you when you get in the field.

Milam Theatre Has Top Shows

The Milam Theatre has announced a full schedule of top first-run features for the fall season. The completely air conditioned theatre also boasts a new Simplex sound system for the enjoyment of Cameron theatre goers. The new system is rated better than the best high fidelity that money can buy according to Bill Peck, manager. He adds, "the finest in refreshments and popcorn are also available to all moviegoers."

Among the excellent shows scheduled for this month is "The Big Circus" which will be the Milam feature for Sunday Monday and Tuesday. Also listed are "Remarkable Mr. Penny Packer, September 16 and 17; "Sleeping Beauty", September 18 and 19; "Horse Soldier, September 20, 21 and 22; "Compulsion, September 23 and 24; and a double feature for the teens, "High School Hotshot" and "T-Bird Gang, September 25 and 26. Given great critical acclaim is the show scheduled for September 27, 28 and 29, "Some Like It Hot."

An 11-year veteran with the two Cameron Theatres, owned by Cameron Theatres Inc., Peck said "The personnel and management of both the 77-Drive-In and Milam Theatres strive to give our customers the utmost in movie entertainment for the money. Be sure to see one of these movies coming up, they will prove that movies are better than ever, and you will prove to yourself that Cameron's Milam is keeping up with the latest in theatre equipment for your enjoyment."

Cup Begins To Brim ...

Cameron's cup is beginning to brim ... as well it should.

Efforts are being centered in the lines of civic improvement that Cameron's citizenship has called for, namely:

STREETS—About 40 blocks of topping have been emplaced over existing surfaces; about 40 blocks of new paved surface are completed or will be completed in ensuing months.

SEWERLINES—A 48 - inch waterline serving much of northeast residential Cameron is being installed with money budgeted for its completion next city fiscal year; gradual emplacement of smaller sewerlines to add on residences now unserved continues in the furthest reaches of the city.

FACELIFTING—The 65-year-old, obsolete water-tower on the Courthouse Square is down; Cameron businessmen are in the midst of a historic, precedent-setting modernization program that will ultimately redo downtown Cameron; old unoccupied residences are coming down all around the city.

PLANNING—City officials are evaluating master sewerline plans with technical engineering consultants; the city continues to follow a master street schedule outlined by the city planning board last November; Chamber officials are completing an analysis of every facet of Cameron economic, social and civic accoutrements with the aid of TP&L specialists.

These are but a few projects in the four basic categories of a city's development. What transpires in future industrial, mercantile and agricultural growth will spring from the basic work now underway.

These actions considered in toto present a community action of which every Cameronite can be proud. Their institution came at Cameron's own awareness of these basic needs. Their implementation is through understanding by those applying a balance of good sense and judgment for growth.

Whatever problems awaiting Cameron can only dissolve before a unified quest for solutions. And as we solve our problems, we gain greater confidence to tackle even larger ones.

In the day of socialized growth, Cameron can retain an enviable atmosphere of the individual working for improvement of his city. We still have identity in Cameron as long as this Milam County seat keeps reasserting its leadership status in Central Texas.

This is the day of metropolitan cannibalism, where the bigger city eats the smaller towns. If we are to remember Cameron as it was, we must continue to rally its growth from present toward future.

Cameron is doing the job.

Sage Claims He Knows
Why China Program Flops

Dear Editor: a lot more privately in the country.

Everybody is supposed to be polite to Mr. Khrushchev on his visit to the United States, even if he is a Russian Communist dictator, but nobody has said we have to be polite to the Chinese Communists, and I was reading an article last night that made me laugh at how dumb the Chinese Communists are.

As I understand it, a few years ago the Communist bosses over there decided they were going to show the Chinese farmers how to farm, so they reorganized the whole business. What they did was throw all the farmers in "communes" this is, herd farmers in into one place, build barracks for them, and run farming like it was a military operation.

What the Chinese bureaucrats failed to realize is that you can't throw people together in close quarters with any success. Any big city proves that.

Also, they must have been working on the theory that a farmer lives in the country because he can't afford to live in town. They're wrong. Actually, these days, very few people can afford to live in either place, town or country, but the way I see it is, you can fail to make ends meet J. A.

I don't know about those Chinese farmers, other than that the news has leaked out they aren't happy about being herded up in barracks and agricultural production is far short of the goals the bosses set up, but the reason I live out here on this Johnson grass farm instead of in a big city is not because I couldn't swing city life if I tried. It's not because there's not room enough there for me. There's not room enough for the people already there, but that has no bearing on it. Cities keep on getting bigger anyway.

The Chinese Communists have another thing coming if they believe they can improve agriculture by putting farmers in towns. I've seen lots of farmers move to town, but it didn't help their farming ability. Most of them wound up becoming barbers or bankers or grocery clerks or merchants or bookkeepers or they ran for office. Of course I know some city people own farms, but generally speaking they're not causing the agricultural surpluses.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Capital Report:

'No More Taxes'
Urged By Texans

AUSTIN — People who have been writing Gov. Price Daniel in the past few weeks say "no more taxes, please."

In mid-August the governor announced he would call a special session to raise money for higher teacher pay only if the people demanded it. He said he also wanted to find out how legislators felt after they had had a chance to be home a while and talk with the people in their districts.

In the weeks that have transpired, there has been a heavy volume of mail running strongly against the special session idea. Lawmakers also are taking a dim view of being called for a fifth round of money hunting.

Whether this means that prospects for a teacher pay session are out remains to be seen. It could mean only that the teachers, their families, friends and other school-minded people have been too busy with "back to school" work to get their letters off to the governor.

On the other hand, it could mean that the people are getting tired of taxes, and spiraling wage scales.

Pinch Already Felt

Perhaps the reason many Texans weren't eager to have another tax session was that they were beginning to feel the bite of new taxes already passed this year.

State Treasurer Jesse James' report shows that many stocked up on cigarettes and liquor during August, before higher taxes on these items became effective in September.

Sale of liquor and cigarette tax stamps soared to $5,227,642 in August. This is $1,098,496 higher than sales for August, 1958.

No statistics are available for the pre-tax selling of items which got hit for the first time. But heavy advertising campaigns indicated that merchants hoped buyers would clear their stores during August of such items as air conditioners in order to avoid the 3 per cent sales tax.

Governor Defends Veto

Governor Daniel's office has suggested that the State Hospital Board tap its $1,200,000 emergency fund to eliminate any fire hazard to the 800 oldsters housed in the Confederate Home in Austin.

Governor Daniel vetoed a legislative appropriation to build new quarters for these patients. His action brought some reactions of surprise and criticism. State Hospital system's safety officer was quoted as labeling the 50-year-old frame buildings as "definite fire hazards."

A spokesman for the governor retorted that the appropriation the governor scratched would not have emptied the Confederate Home. He said it would have provided quarters for only about 300.

He suggested the State Hospital

Board use its emergency funds to re-double safety precautions for the old folks.

Long Time, No Pay

Legislative employees will have to wait until Nov. 4 to get their next pay check.

In its last special session the Legislature approved a $330,000 fund transfer for these between-sessions expenses by voice vote. But all bills not passed by a two-thirds record vote cannot take effect until 90 days after the session ends. Hence, the November date for this action.

Legislature also appropriated $1,000,000 for legislative expenses, but this was vetoed by the governor. He said he felt they could get along on the $330,000.

Canady In States
After Months Cruise

SEATTLE, Wash. (FHTC) — Benny L. Canady, stewardman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Canady of 906 North Nolan St., Cameron is returned to Seattle Wash., Sept. 7, aboard the transport USS General William Mitchell following a one-month cruise to Japan, Korea, and the island of Okinawa in the western Pacific.

The Mitchell, a unit of the Pacific Fleet's Military Sea Transport Service, provides transportation for military personnel, their dependents and cargo to locations in the Pacific and Far East areas.

Of the 18 U. S. Navy ships which have disappeared without a trace since 1781, four were lost during the month of September, accounting for 612 men.

The Yoemen will take on cross - country Rockdale in the clash for the "Championship of Milam County." Rockdale topped Giddings 24 - 16 last Friday. Cameron played Giddings in a Scrimmage and out scored them.

This should be a well matched game that will provide plenty of thrills for all spectators.

The Yoemen slipped by the Tigers in a close contest last year. Can they do it again this year? We'll find out at the game Friday night, Yoe High Field!

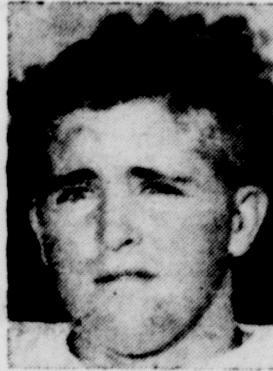

See You There!

Legume Requests Being Accepted

Producers desiring to seed winter legumes in the fall of 1959, are advised by Alva E. Sanders, County Office Manager of the Milam County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office that farmers requests are now being accepted for county committee approval. The county committee will consider applications on Wednesday of each week.

The manager informs us that more farmers participate in the winter legume program for soil conservation than all other applicable practices. In addition to soil and water conservation, winter legumes adds humus which improve soil texture. Also winter legumes offer a limited amount of grazing.

Producers interested in this practice should begin making plans and contact the Milam County ASC Office for additional information.
